

Personal Information “Discretionary Investment Clients”

The Protection of Personal Information (PoPI) Act applies to the processing of your personal information. The following sets out how, when and why MiPlan as the responsible party has your personal information, how it is used and what your rights are should you not be in accord. Please note that if the information we hold is that of a minor, we require the accordance of the parent/legal guardian/representative (to whom this is then addressed) as well as to validate a request for the withdrawal of consent for the use of personal information.

Use of Information: Your personal information is used where necessary to provide our services in terms of our discretionary mandate with you, the client, and our agreement with your advisor. We use your personal information for the following purposes:

- to fulfil our contract with you in terms of this mandate;
- to verify and confirm your identity; and conduct checks as required by legislation*;
- to communicate with you;
- to comply with legal obligations imposed by the relevant regulatory frameworks*.

Collection: We will collect the following (but not limited to) data directly and/or indirectly from you, your advisor or other appointed party:

- your title, full name, your contact details (email address and telephone/cellphone number);
- proof of residential address;
- your date of birth;
- proof of identification, registration, entity verification documents;
- occupation;
- tax number, tax certificates or tax clearance, payslip;
- financial and product information: product identifier and details, investment value, source of wealth, source and proof of funds.

For MiPlan to fulfil its contract with you, it is mandatory that the personal information be provided to enable us to carry out our mandated duties and services. Should you fail to provide MiPlan with the information, we will not be able to offer our services to you and/or will be forced to terminate our contract with you and cease to offer such contracted services.

Sharing of Information: The personal information provided to MiPlan is kept strictly confidential and MiPlan will not rent, trade or sell your personal information. We will, however, disclose or report personal information if and when required to do so by law or by any authorised regulatory body or in the fulfilment of our mandate.

Your rights: You have the right to (after having provided adequate proof of identity):

- access and rectify the information collected;
- object to the processing of personal information;
- request a responsible party to confirm, free of charge, whether or not MiPlan holds your personal information;
- request from MiPlan as the responsible party, the record or a description of the personal information about you, the data subject, held by the responsible party, including information about the identity of all third parties, or categories of third parties, who have, or have had, access to the information—
 - i. within a reasonable time;
 - ii. at a prescribed fee, if any;
 - iii. in a reasonable manner and format that is understandable;

- to lodge a complaint to the Information Regulator. The contact details of the information regulator are as follows:
