Transaction Costs are a necessary cost in administering the Financial Product and impacts Financial Product returns. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of financial product, the investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER.

FUND MANAGER COMMENTARY

Investors recoiled as equity markets declined precipitously in February. The catalyst appears to have been the rapid spread throughout the world of the nCov virus, despite the clampdown of labour movement in China. Equity markets repriced risk as many feared both a supply and demand side shock. This may happen as China struggles to mobilise its labour force and the West increasingly quarantines new areas impacted by the virus. Given the level of unpredictability in both the magnitude and extent, financial markets will rally and retrace based on both perception and news flow. Central banks have intervened with another round of monetary stimulus as the US Fed cut rates by a rather dramatic 50 basis points. Importantly, while central banks can lower the cost of money, it is the velocity of money that matters at this point in time. Consumers need to feel confident in their capacity to derive income from gainful employment while companies need to be able to produce the goods and services that consumers demand. With most of the industrial complex remaining closed at the time of writing, only time will tell how much of an impact the breakdown in the supply chain will be on the prospect for global growth.

Performance for the month favoured select stocks such as Nvidia (+19 percent), Barrick Gold (+7 percent) and Lam Research (+2 percent) against a sea of red in the market. Your portfolio was well protected as the foreign component was well protected, with over 30 percent in USD cash. We remain defensively positioned, although we are selectively adding to positions at the lower levels given the very high cash weights in the portfolio.

An analysis of factors affecting the adherence to the policy objective is contained in the fund manager commentary. A detailed listing of changes from the previous quarter is available on request from info@miplan.co.za or clientservices@ipmc.co.za

Collective Investment Schemes are generally medium to long term investments. The value of participatory interests or the investment may go down as well as up. Past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. Collective investment schemes are traded at ruling prices and can engage in borrowing and scrip lending. A schedule of fees and charges and maximum commissions is available on request from the manager. The Manager does not provide any guarantee either with respect to the capital or the return of a portfolio. The Manager retains full legal responsibility for the Fund, regardless of Co-Naming arrangements. Transaction cutoff time is 14:30 daily. Each portfolio may be closed for new investments. Valuation time is 15:00 (17h00 at quarter end). Prices are published daily and available in newspapers countrywide, as well as on request from the Manager. IP Management Company (RF) Pty Ltd is the authorised Manager of the Scheme – contact 021 673 1340 or clientservices@ipmc.co.za. Standard Bank is the trustee / custodian – contact compliance-IP@standardbank.co.za. Additional information including application forms, the annual report of the Manager and detailed holdings of the portfolio as at the last quarter end are available, free of charge, from clientservices@ipmc.co.za. IP Management Company is a member of ASISA. A statement of changes in the composition of the portfolio during the reporting period is available on request. The performance is calculated for the portfolio. The individual investor performance may differ as a result of initial fees, the actual investment date, the date of reinvestment and dividend withholding tax. The fund is invested in portfolios of collective investment schemes that levy their own charges, and which could result in a higher fee structure for the fund.

INVESTMENT THEME & REVENUE DRIVERS

Within the current macro environment we remain focused on those companies that are adaptive to a very rapidly changing environment and who are able to survive. Those that don't will unquestionably flounder, with the downside to shareholder value and drawdown risk at asset class level being much greater than many expect. In this context we see companies in the consumer staple, healthcare, technology, consumer discretionary and industrial sectors as the primary drivers of this fund. We see these industries as demonstrating the sort of earnings power we are looking to invest in. In investing in these industries and the companies chosen for the fund, we look to establish a position in the leading players coupled with positions in stocks within the sector that may have a more specialist focus. The assessment of free cash flow, balance sheet strength and margin stability form an important part of the research process. Our assessment of value is based on the degree to which the market has priced in future growth prospects where our investment horizon is typically the next 12 to 36 months. In terms of geographic diversification, our preference at the moment is the US where we see the Fed's policy of accommodative monetary as an underpin to equity values as the economy transitions from central bank support to real earnings growth.
