The fund's benchmark changed from STeFI Composite x 1.10 to STeFI Composite with effect from 1 February 2021, in keeping with international best practice. STeFI Composite x 1.10 remains the fund's target. The effects on the fund's performance of the ABIL Retention Fund held between 2014 and 2016 are included in the reported performance, as those effects have now dissipated to the point of being negligible.

OBJECTIVE

The objective of the portfolio is to provide a return in excess of Money Market portfolios, for investors seeking to earn a reasonable level of income with low risk of capital loss.

INVESTOR PROFILE

The fund should suit investors:

- Aiming for higher returns than are available through cash or bank deposits over a 12-36 month period.
- Seeking actively managed exposure to the full spectrum of the fixed interest and high yielding universe of assets.
- Not wanting to personally choose between money market, bond, income, or preference dividend funds but rather believing in the ability of a good asset manager to do this job.

The fund does not suit investors whose time horizon is less than 12 months and who are uncomfortable with price fluctuations over this shorter term.

APPLICATION

This fund enjoys a flexible mandate, and the manager will scour opportunities within money market instruments, vanilla bonds, inflation-linked bonds and equities, including listed property. Where good value exists in suitable foreign assets, moderate use may be made of these. The basic premise is that higher returns than money market funds are available, but because the assets that generate these also incur higher risks, they will be used judiciously and cautiously.

THIS COMMENTARY PERTAINS TO THE MAIN FUND. YOUR ATTENTION IS DRAWN TO SEPARATE COMMENTARY FOR THE RETENTION FUND.

Bonds were soggy in the fourth quarter of 2024, with the All Bond Index returning just 0.43%. However, that barely dented a stellar calendar 2024, in which bonds returned 17.18% nominal or – better still – nearly 14% real. That nominal return is the best in 20 years, but only the 9th best in the modern era of the South African bond market, which, for a variety of reasons, we define to have begun in 1989.

As always, the year brought much news for scaremongers to trumpet. Most of it was inconsequential to financial markets. That said, the local and US elections jointly explained much of 2024's bond market moves; the former unambiguously positive for bonds and the later unambiguously negative. The US 10-year Treasury yield rose 74bps in the 4th quarter, on concerns of a sharply increased US deficit.

Over the course of 2024, South African inflation fell from a high of 5.6% in February to a low of 2.8% in October. The November print was 2.9% (the December CPI was not available at the time of writing). Apart from that drop itself, the numbers once again flummoxed forecasters, by surprising to the downside. Naturally that combination augured much better for nominal bonds than for inflation-linked bonds and indeed, the index returns were starkly different. The ALBI returned 17.18% for the year, while the CLI managed only 7.8%. That did still comprise a decent real return. Long-dated ILBs, as measured by the CILI 12+ barely did better, at 8.6%.

Prevailing domestic inflation is abnormally low. Even early in January 2025, the under-recovery on the petrol price suggests a hefty increase in prices in February.

Some current fund stats: Modified Duration = 0.92, Spread Duration = 0.83, Yield to Maturity = 10.05% and Running Yield = 10.43%. Largest single issuer exposure is to government bonds, at 32%.

An analysis of factors affecting the adherence to the policy objective is contained in the fund manager commentary together with performance as reported. Collective Investment Schemes are generally medium to long term investments. The value of participatory interests or the investment may go down as well as up. Past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. Collective investment schemes are traded at ruling prices and can engage in borrowing and scrip lending. A schedule of fees and charges and maximum commissions is available on request from the manager. The Manager does not provide any guarantee either with respect to the capital or the return of a portfolio. The Manager retains full legal responsibility for the Fund, regardless of Co-Naming arrangements. Transaction cut-off time is 14:30 daily. Each portfolio may be closed for new investments. Valuation time is 15:00 (17h00 at quarter end). Prices are published daily and available in newspapers countrywide, as well as on request from the Manager. IP Management Company (RF) Pty Ltd is the authorised Manager of the Scheme – contact 021 673 1340 or ipmc\_clientservices@fundrock.com. Additional information including application forms, the annual report of the Manager and detailed holdings of the portfolio as at the last quarter end are available, free of charge, from ipmc\_clientservices@fundrock.com. IP Management Company is a member of ASISA. A statement of changes in the composition of the portfolio during the reporting period is available on request. The performance is calculated for the portfolio. The individual investor performance may differ as a result of initial fees, the actual investment date, the date of reinvestment and dividend withholding tax. The fund is invested in portfolios of collective investment schemes that levy their own charges, and which could result in a higher fee structure for the fund.

Historically, the fund fact sheet (MDD) estimated the overall yield via a weighted average that combined nominal and real yields, as well as dividend yields on equities. A preferred methodology is to adjust real yields (on inflation-linked bonds) to estimated nominal yields by adding expected inflation. This preferred methodology is reflected in this month's MDD and a historical comparison is available on request
