The Transaction Cost (TC) of the value of the financial product was incurred as costs relating to the buying and selling of underlying assets within the financial product. Total Investment Charges (TIC) of the value of the financial product was incurred as costs relating to the investment of the financial product. The TER, TC and TIC figures are inclusive of VAT. The period (annualised) was from 1 April 2021 to 31 March 2024.

Equity markets worldwide softened perceptibly towards the end of the quarter as investors digested slower growth in Europe and peak technological valuations and select health care stocks in the US. With investor attention focused on where interest rates are going in the USA and when the Fed may decide to pivot (the most overused word in the investment lexicon for 2024), we wonder whether these two factors will be the dominant drivers for the year's second half? We are inclined to be cautious for several reasons. Firstly, the outcome of the elections in the UK and the US, as well as the snap election called by Macron in France, could shift the world to the right. What this means for economies and financial markets is relatively unknown. Also, with nominal GDP in the US softening, it seems unlikely that the extent of positive earnings revisions can sustain the current pace. But equity markets are unlikely to respond as negatively to lower earnings, slower economic growth or a delay in interest rate reductions as much as they will to tighter liquidity conditions and higher volatility. We are pleased to report a solid quarter with the switch into long-dated domestic nominal bonds, particularly profitable post-elections.

**Please note that the MiPlan IP Inflation Plus 7 fund has been reclassified from the ASISA SA MultiAsset Medium Equity sector to the ASISA MultiAsset High Equity sector and has retained its performance history.*
